ABOUT ME

I'm a product designer based in Prague. I started in graphic design, doing brands and websites, and spent a lot of those years around culture — working with festivals like KVIFF and Prague Pride. Later I moved into UX, studied it during my master's, and ended up in product design. I like it because I get to understand the whole problem, not just one screen, and help decide where a product should go — based on its vision and what's actually happening in the market.

MY MOST NOTABLE COLLABORATIONS

✿ Ataccama

✿ 1. Web IT

I led a complete website redesign and brand refresh, building their branding from the ground up with a strategic, design-led approach. I continue to partner with their team long-term as a product designer, shaping the product design of Altoa, their premium healthcare platform, and supporting their clients.

✿ Apadore

For the Apadore studio, I create B2B websites. In collaboration with the Art Director, we build the brand's visual universe, which I then translate into functional, thoughtful web design.

✿ Shoptet UX partner

Shoptet UX Partner, conducting UX audits and usability reviews for e-commerce stores to improve conversion, navigation, and checkout experiences.

✿ Jitro Design

In collaboration with the graphic studio Jitro Design, I learned the most about working with typography and composition, and I then completed an internship at the KVIFF festival.

✿ Prague Pride Festival

For five years, I've helped create the visual identity and graphics for the Prague Pride festival. After working with agencies, I took over the in-house campaign visuals across online, print, spatial applications, and merch. For my diploma thesis, I redesigned the festival website to improve communication and presentation.
